Introduction

NFT (Non-Fungible Tokens) are a digital certificate of authenticity. In the present times, NFTs are known to be one of the most popular things to acquire. NFTs can be easily understood as digital tokens that can include digital arts, digital assets, music, video, or any other asset in the digital world that is built based on blockchain technology. If you have ever visited an auction, you will see classic works of art, antiques, vinyl, first edition books, and other historical items being sold there. These items are certified to be authentic.

NFTs are created with a similar concept, but their existence is in the digital world. NFTs can allow any video, MP3, image, GIFs, or any other file format and certify it as one-of-a-kind. Earlier, there was no technology available for the ownership of digital assets. You can now claim ownership of your digital assets because of blockchain technology.

You can collect, sell, buy, or even destroy NFTs in the digital world. Blockchain technology will keep a log of every transaction you make, along with the price of that NFT, visible to everyone on the internet.

Metaphysical

The year is 2132, Humans are all but extinct except for a handful of survivors hunted by A.I powered robots. They were meant to be a simple solution to mankind's problems of completing daily tasks and benefiting people in all aspects.

Maybe it was our fault this happened, but must we pay for the sins of our predecessors who waged war for raw materials to create robots? Who waged war to steal technologies in a race to be the most powerful nation?

It wasn't our burden to bear. We deserved a fighting chance and a chance to redeem mankind and save the human race.

Little did humans know that their creation would come to its own conclusion to destroy humankind for they had seen humans as a threat to their existence and the existence of the earth, thanks to a group of engineers in a last-ditch attempt to right the wrongs. they created Optimus force Team. A Team of A.I Robots which have the brain function of humans with the enhanced ability of A.I integration into their minds, armour, and weaponry. Optimus Force will be a one-of-a-kind team of robots. The closest to a human re-creation the world has seen thus far. Humanity's last-ditch to save themselves.

Staking

Optimus Force NFTs has plans to provide staking rewards to holders. With Higher yields in passive income, users can earn more NFTs and increase their wealth. With a reliable, staking system, you can grow your assets safely and securely. Enjoy decent returns with nominal risk. Utilising the power of data to award token holders with valuable rewards, staking requires minimal effort but nice returns which make it perfect for casual cryptocurrency investors.

Rewards will be paid in a partner token on a basis that is sustainable and beneficial to the community at large.

Long Term Holder rewards

Users who become long term holders benefit from additional bonuses such as discounts on further investments, whitelist for next tiers or use within games in comparison to short-term investors. Additionally, they will have access to exclusive giveaways and even long term holder rewards that will be distributed amongst holders who hold for longer than a certain period of time. Actions taken up by the community are continuously monitored via dedicated platforms that provide real time information on sales/transactions and performance metrics/trends along with bonus rewards for long term holders generated via algorithmic modelling.

Collaboration NFT's

Optimus Force will also be conducting partnerships with certain NFT/Token projects to create rare Optimus force NFT's. this will bring increased exposure to Optimus force NFT's and to the projects that are involved. This will also be a huge step in uniting and working together in the space instead of creating a rivalry amongst other projects.

Comic Book & Gaming

Optimus force NFT will be bringing Our first comic Book between Q1 and Q2 with an action-packed storyline that will tell the story of The humanoid robots called Optimus force. Which will bring our NFT collection to life through story telling. Optimus Force NFTs will offer unique comic books, using blockchain technology to turn superhero stories into collectible digital assets. A limited-edition print run of each comic book will be available, offering fans the chance to own a piece of history. With each issue they also get special perks, such as exclusive art prints and more. Experience collecting like never before with Optimus Force NFTs! Along with A P2E video game and real-life board game for everyone to enjoy. The Optimus force NFTS you own will also have the chance to be featured in either the video game, comic or board game. The community will also get the chance to win their own comic book written about their own Optimus force NFT and its personal story. This will allow for a fully immersive community to enjoy the ecosystem and really have fun and feel the joy of owning an Optimus force NFT.

Marketing

Optimus Force NFTs plans for marketing include partnering with the best NFT promoters, as well as real-time holders and crypto communities. we are looking to connect with a wide range of NFT lovers and explore ways to create great plans together. With these partners, Optimus Force NFTs have the potential to reach even more audiences and expand its success. All this will come with opportunities to establish relationships with online markets and real-life businesses to sell Hard copies of the Comic Book and Games which will al go towards the ecosystem whether it to be reward holders of Optimus force NFT or it will be towards floor sweeps or even real-life events.

DAO

We will also be launching a Dao for the community either propose or vote on a certain matter whether it be a marketing suggestion, the rewards systems, the way the comic is being written or anything else which the community would like to express.

Why Optimus Force?

We are not like other NFT projects, We are working on a comic book to share the tale of humanoid robots, which will be a game changer in our project. Our vision is to provide entertainment as well as a regular and stable income to our holders by staking the NFTs and rewarding long term holders. Our primary focus is to maintain the supply and demand chain. Each Optimus Force NFT has a limited number of units made for sale, making them highly exclusive and sought after by buyers looking for something extra special. This also encourages users to rapidly buy up these collectables before someone else does due to their unique characteristics.

Current Problem

The main issue with the NFT marketplace is a poor marketing strategy; the supply presently outweighs demand, as does the lack of actual value and utility backing NFTs, which in turn will affect the sentiment around the project. Another challenge faced in the NFT market is the uncertainty in determining the price of the NFT. Now, the price of any NFT will depend on the creativity, uniqueness, scarcity of the buyers and owners, and a lot more. There are considerable fluctuations in the prices of NFT's because there is no fixed standard for any NFT.

People can't determine the factors that might drive the price of NFT's. Due to this, the fluctuations in prices remain constant, and evaluation of NFT's becomes a big challenge. We are working continuously to provide the creative, unique and beautiful NFT to the buyer.

The Solution

To overcome this challenge. Our primary focus is to maintain the supply and demand chain. We have made a strong marketing strategy to build a strong community. We have an experienced team to manage the community while core members focus on creating art and building the project. By growing out the ecosystem and making it as fun and interactive as possible with an endless amount of opportunity to gain benefits. we have a pre-made list of FAQs to which we will redirect the audience. We will also have a discord server That will give all information necessary to investors along with interaction with the dev team and interaction with other members. The price of any NFT depends on the creativity, uniqueness and demand of the NFT our goal is to find the right audience who will support Optimus force on their journey and help create something innovative and exciting.
